DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to because figure numbers are starting with a number other than 1 and the copyright information on each page of the figures are not necessary. Figures 222 and 227 appear missing a letter -- o -- in front of "f" in the brief explanation of the figures. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

2. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: the copyright information on each page of the Specification and claim needs to be deleted. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

5. Re claims 1 and 5, the claim merely defines what each of a queen number and a Jones number is made of respectively. It lacks a detail step of the claimed method. The preamble commences as a method claim, but fails to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter. The examiner respectfully requests applicant to further define the claimed subject matter in a more precise and accurate manner. The terms “Yfee” and “ATV number” need further definition to conduct an efficient prior art search.

Re claim 2, the preamble, “The methods...” appears to be in appropriate. A single method is to be claimed rather than a plurality of methods. Using words such as, “they” and “it” is avoidable since those do not clearly define the claimed subject matter.

Re claims 3-5, using words such as, “they” and “it” is avoidable since those do not clearly define the claimed subject matter.

6. Claims 2 and 4 recite the limitation "the secondary numbers" in line 9 of claim 2 and “the network” in line 3 of claim 4. Both phrases require having a proper antecedent basis. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim. The network needs to be further defined to conduct a proper prior art search.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

8. Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Keech (US 20020059146 A1).

Re claim 5, Keech discloses a disposable financial tool that has a single working life (a predetermined one time transaction code), when used to make a purchase or other transaction, it cannot be reused to make another purchase or redeposit.

Additional Remarks

The lack of an art rejection with this Office action is not an indication of allowable subject matter (i.e., even though the claims 1-5 are rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection under 35 U.S.C. 112 as discussed above). The disclosure/claimed language is such that it is impractical to conduct a reasonable search of the prior art by the Examiner.
